Montevideo, 14th

Why waste money in telegrams when there is no reliable news, or if reliable no certainty that it will go? The air is full of sensational rumours, of wonderful political changes and events about to occur, and it is generally believed that by some means peace will soon be restored.

General Eduardo Vazquez, recently appointed commander in Chief of the South Rio Negro forces, leaves to-morrow for the Interior with General Salvador Tajes as chief of a numerous and selected staff, and a hundred soldiers of the 4th Chasseurs.

The portfolio of Foreign Relations has been tendered to Dr. Jose Maria Castellanos and the Chief Command of the military forces North of the Rio Negro to General Casimiro Garcia who will select General Ricardo Esteban as Chief of his staff.

Young Mauricio Camporalio of the Barrio Garibaldi, when fooling with a revolver to-day shot himself dead through the hearth.

Lieutenant Belen of the Division Florida had some angry words with his Captain Eugenia Martinez last night at a store in the town of 25 de Agosto and when leaving shot him through the head then cleared for parts unknown with a dozen soldiers under his charge.

All the officers of the 1st Chasseurs have been promoted, and Mr. Andre the fortunate constructor of the Canet and Bunge bakeries, rejoices, the papers say, in a further installment on account of from thirty six to eighty thousand dollars gold.

Chico Saraiva was buried in his own estancia, and likewise, two days after, his sister Amelia, who died of tuberculosis. A son of Gumersindo Saraiva, sixteen years old, was in the fight, and wounded at Arbolito. Dr Manuel Otero is the latest candidate for the vacant Legation in Brazil.

No important or reliable news from the seat of war; no serious fighting since Arbolito.

(Per Havas Agency.)

The Turkish Fleet in movement.

The Sultan's Ministers disagree.

Arrest of Anarchists.

Success of Cuban Rebels.

New York, 14th—The New York Herald to-day published a telegram from its correspondent in Constantinople attributing to the Sublime Porte the intention of demanding an indemnity from Greece for the invasion of Macedonia by Greek rebels.

Paris, 14th—Telegrams from Nimes report that the strike of miners there has spread to other departments of the Gard. The authorities fear further disturbances.

Havannah, 14th—Telegrams received to-day from Havannah announce that Quintin Banderas a rebel chief has broken through the Spanish lines at Jucaro and is now on his way to Santa Clara at the head of a strong body of rebels.

Nice, 14th—Telegrams from Cannes announce that the Duke of Mecklemburg's friend state that deceased died through falling off the roof of the villa in which he resided.

Berlin, 14th—A fire-damp explosion occurred to-day in a mine at Oberhausen near Essen. Several miners were killed by the force of the explosion.

Vienna, 14th—Telegrams from Macedonia report that Turkish troops have killed a number of Greek insurgents.

Berlin, 14th—Three hundred Italian students on a pleasure trip arrived here to-day from Cologne. The authorities and people gave them a grand reception.

Constantinople, 14th—A Cabinet Council which lasted for twenty hours took place under the Presidency of the Grand Visir Halil Rifat Pacha in order to determine what Turkey is to do in view of Greece's aggresiveness. Nothing definite could be decided owing to the difference of opinion which prevails amongst the Ministers. Another council will be held to-night, meanwhile great anxiety prevails among the population.

Paris, 14th—The Grand Opera House was crowded last night to hear Tamagno as Othello. The great tenor scored a veritable triumph in this opera and was repeatedly called to the footlights. The receipts amounted to 43,000 fcs.

Berlin, 14th—Landaner and Spohr, two well known anarchists, were arrested here to-day, on suspicion of being implicated in some new plot against life and property.

Athens, 14th—Premier Delyannis has offered H. M. King George to resign with the whole Cabinet, but H.M. has refused to accept the offer.

Canea, 14th—There are no less than 250 wounded soldiers in Colonel Vassos' encampment.

Suez, 14th—No less than fifteen British men-of-war have passed through the Suez Canal since the first of the current month.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight.)

Madrid, 14th—In the opinion of the Government the insurrection in the Philippines is practically over, as the latest telegrams from General Polavieja state that the more important of the rebel bands have submitted themselves to the Spanish authorities.

Athens, 14th—It is asserted that a fresh body composed of several thousand insurgents has crossed the frontier into Macedonia, near Kalambaka. None of the previous expeditions was numerically so large.

HOLY WEEK.

At this season of the year, when our glorious day-star approaches the constellation of the Bull, towards which in prehistoric periods the polar axis of our planet pointed, and to whose scintillating lights the eyes of the Himalayan shepherds were raised in curious observation nigh 4,000 years before our era, there comes over civilized humanity and its countless occupations, a calm, a lull, a respite too deep in its significance to be overlooked even by the levity of modern journalism. The tide of trade and commerce, with its foam of enterprise and activity, the under-currents of unavowable feelings which oft carry man to perdition, the moaning winds of passions — all pause; all are hushed. The Banks and Bourses close their portals; the shops their doors. Mankind, for a brief spell, is freed from the daily thraldom, and the untrammelled mind, on the swift wings of fancy, flies back through the serried centuries to the lonely garden where the Saviour wept, to the distant Mount where His blood was shed by the chosen people. Upon that divine tragedy enacted for a purpose which mankind has begun to appreciate, it is hardly befitting our light pen to dwell; and if we refer to a subject so mournful in its causes, so glorious in its consequences, it is merely to bring more prominently into relief the religious revival that marks this season of the year.

And when we say revival, we mean to more boldly contrast the apparent fervour of society during Holy Week with the discouraging indifference and the general heartlessness that are stamped on the other 51 weeks of the year. If we turn to enlightened Europe, we are at once confronted with the struggle between capital and labour, with the grim spectre of misery that drives happiness from the humble home, with vice that swells the torrent of crime, in a word, with what is generally termed "stern reality." We see very little of the true Christian spirit, either in the dealings of trade or the manipulations of politics. Man's inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn. Those leaders of Society, who outwardly and even ostentatiously profess that altruism taught by Him Who wept in the garden of Gethsemane, enslave millions of men under the military yoke and heap on a brave peasantry the crushing burthen of taxation. Already more than one nation is dying in the coils of the hydra of armed peace, and on every beach one sees the mournful spectacle so feelingly described by the tender Goldsmith in his Deserted Village. There is a wide breach indeed between the theory and the practice of Christianity, and one feels that the material advance of Society has outstripped its moral progress. It would not be difficult to decide whether the Arcadian shepherd, whose ignorance made a god of an echo, of a shadow, of any to him inexplicable phenomenon, were happier than the modern tax-crushed peasant, whose intellectual level has been raised by the system of compulsory education—the most vaunted triumph of civilization.

In an age like this, when cynic philosophy proclaims the policeman's baton and the State's artillery as the only reliable moral restraints, it is pleasing to turn to the huge and oft maligned British Empire and contemplate the truly Christian effort that has been made to save India from famine, on which subject a flood of light has been thrown by Sir Edwin Arnold. In his own words: "Her Majesty's Government to-day, as before, adhere to the principle of saving life by all the available means in their power. In accordance with such an unparalleled vow of duty, never accepted before in the annals of Empire, an all embracing Famine Department has long been established, a Famine Fund has been instituted; officers of keen ability and devoted energy watch, inspect, enquire and report constantly and ubiquitously, and the Indian people, so far as it knows or cares anything at all of politics, knows that the British Raj, which keeps the Burra Choop for them—the "Great Peace"—and lets scrupulously alone their religions, their women, their liberties, and their property, stands also self-charged before Heaven with the resolve to rescue them from death and misery at cost, if needful, of the last rupee of the Sirkar's treasure-chest, whensoever that wrath or indifference of Indra comes against it."

It would be impossible to find, in the annals of the present era, a more splendid triumph of Christian principles than the unsurpassed activity with which the British Government have opposed the ravages of the Indian famine. It is a genuine, heartfelt effort, strangely contrasting with the mock righteousness which, as we said in a recent issue, is to-day being used by a Christian power to mask deep designs of territorial aggrandisement at the expense of an ill-governed and oppressed nation. Time will shew the truth of our appreciations.

THE LOCUST INVESTIGATION

In a lengthy letter to the Semana Rural, addressed to Mr. J. F. Roberts, Chairman of the Merchants' Locust investigation Committee, Mr. Enrique Lynch Arribalzaga advises the Committee to undo all that it has done, give up the idea of searching for the habitat or breeding zone of the locusts, desist from enjoying the services of a foreign specialist to study the question, appoint some local naturalist for the task, enlist the material and moral support of Government and individuals, buy zinc and canvas for active operations, and last and not least organise a special department under some experienced and well-paid official to superintend the study and destruction of locusts. Mr. Lynch, like many others, is evidently ignorant of the antecedents that led to the formation of the Merchants' Locust Investigation Committee. Mr. J. F. Roberts, Chairman of the Merchants' Committee, has answered Mr. Lynch Arribalzaga in the following terms:—

Enrique Lynch Arribalzaga, Esq.,
Valparaiso.

Dear Sir,—

I have received and read your interesting letter dated February 28th ult., referring to the important question Extermination of ths Locust, and which appeared in the 97th number of the Semana Rural published here.

In answering your letter I may state that the Committee appointed by Buenos Aires merchants, banks and railway companies for the purpose of discussing this vital matter, and over which I have the honor to preside, adopted the following resolutions in their General Meeting of 28th ult:—

1st.—Consult the Governments of the different countries which have suffered losses through the invasion of locusts, and open a series of correspondence with Scientific Societies and persons who have made the method of exterminating the locusts a special study.

2nd.—Take the necessary steps to obtain the services of one or more well known authorities on the matter, in order that they may devote special attention to the invasion of the Argentine Republic by locusts and propose the best means of getting rid of the plague.

3rd.—Raise funds through subscriptions or other means in order to attain the object in view.

The United States solved the difficult problem of getting rid of locusts, and this has led the committee to communicate with North American experts through the medium of the United States Minister here, in order to obtain the services of an entomologist who will take the matter in hand. The Committee hopes to receive a favourable reply in a short time.

A Sub Commission composed of gentlemen who devoted some time to the study of the question has also been appointed. This commission is at present engaged in receiving data referring to locusts from all parts of the Republic, and the information received will be given to the entomologist who is shortly expected. Once this gentleman has perused the documents, the committee will send a report of the work done to the National Government, and at the same time advise the best means of getting rid of the plague.

I beg to remain yours truly.
J. F. Roberts
President.

Our colleague El Tiempo vents its ire on the Locust Investigation Committee for engaging the services of an American entomologist to study the locust invasions in Argentina: this appointment, it adds, is a slight to the nation, and to the naturalists who live in our midst and are quite equal to the task. We join issue with our colleague. First and foremost, the Merchants' Committee has to obey the instruction of the body of merchants who named that Committee: so there is no use attacking the Committee. Secondly, if there is local talent able to combat the evil, ten years have elapsed with locust invasions and losses to our crops, but no practical evidence of that local talent coping with the evil. Our colleague says that Dr. Berg should not have been overlooked. We might add that Dr. Berg is Director of the National Museum, and that it is none of his business. Furthermore, the Committee have always consulted Dr. Berg and other naturalists in our midst. It was not the wish nor the intention of the Buenos Ayres merchants to hurt the feelings our colleague refers to: the wish to engage the services of a foreign specialist, when the resolutions and instructions were framed for the guidance of the Locust Committee, sprang from the solemn fact that in a rotation of years, with periodical locust invasions and colossal losses, no scientist, nobody, in the country had done anything practical to check an enemy that threatens to kill our agricultural industry and plunge thousands of people into misery. The merchants were guided by the earnest desire to do something practical on their own account, and they are still of opinion that nothing could be more practical than to engage the services of some specialist, who combined with the science of the entomologist the valuable experience of locust destruction acquired by years of practical training in the United States. This sounds practical enough to business men, and we think that the public at large will approve the experiment. No matter what the results—the merchants of Buenos Ayres deserve national thanks for trying this practical experiment.

THE SUGAR PETITION.

At foot we publish the petition of several Tucuman sugar growers to the Minister of Finance, begging for the benefit of the Bounty Law of 0.12$ paper per kilo of sugar exported after June 30th of this year. The terms of the petition are vague enough, but in an article in our last issue we explained at length the full gist of the request and the terms of the Law. We see that it is not the Union Azucarera who beg for this fresh concession, but it is a case of six of one and half a dozen of the other, for the very petition leaves no room for doubt in the matter. As we stated before, the National Executive cannot alter the law of Congress, and Minister Escalante must refuse the petition—were it granted, the new excise of 0.06$ per kilo of sugar in stock would come into force, and the price of sugar would immediately go up, as we fail to see how the bounty of 0.12$ paper on kilo exported can be separated from the 6 cents per kilo excise on sugar in stock.

The following is the petition:—

To H. E. Dr. Wenceslao Escalante,
Minister of Finance:

Excellent Sir,

That the increased United States Customs Dues on foreign sugar will be put in force after the promulgation of the law referring to this measure.

In order to forestall these prohibitive duties we have thought it expedient to ask to be allowed to export a portion of the coming sugar crop, anticipating the terms of Law No.—and in order to do this we have obtained the following tons of sugar from the Argentine Sugar Trust:

1—Sugar Mills La Florida, La Trinidad and Nueva Baviera 8,000 tons.

2—Sugar Mills Santa Ana y Lules 3,000 tons.

3—Sugar Mill Lastenia 1,200 tons.
" " Amalia 800 tons.
" " Los Ralos 600 tons.
" " San Andres 400 tons.

The Argentine Sugar Trust has, moreover, offered a similar loan to all those soliciting same.

We can—in supporting our petition to carry out this exportation in anticipation of Law No.—shew the advantage of exporting a portion of sugar in stock five months beforehand, and the advantage to the country of the realization of from seven to eight hundred thousand gold dollars, accruing from the sale of this sugar. We therefore beg Y. E. to authorise us to effect this anticipated exportation.

Hoping that our petition will be viewed by Y. E. in a favourable light, we beg to salute Y. E. with our most distinguished consideration and respect.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

March 19th.

It was yesterday stated that somewhat grave news had been received in London as to the health of the German Emperor, and that certain constitutional possibilities had been discussed. Daily Chronicle, 18th inst.

I am following the example of our excellent friend the Daily Chronicle, which, always prompted by the non-conformist spirit, heads its political articles with texts. For my texts I claim only plenary inspiration. They serve as a partial confirmation of other letters I have troubled you with, written perhaps in a kind of frenzy provoked by the now overt reactionary tendencies of Lord Salisbury's Government. The English people are morally and intellectually incapable of deceit. Morally, because out of business circles they retain the national hatred of the untrue, and in all circles the hatred of the unreal. Intellectually, because they are absolutely deficient in subtlety of mind. The unreal they call uncanny, and face it with their sword-hilts. To the untrue they present the toes of their boots. A people with such a temperament is difficult to understand, but easy to gull. You have only to make the unreal substantial in appearance, and the untrue look rational, and above all moral, and they will think you as incapable of deceit as they are themselves. Mr. Jabez Balfour knew them thoroughly. Mr. Arthur Balfour did not. He was taken in by Mr. Brooks, and in common with the majority of his fellow-countrymen he seems to believe in Lord Salisbury as the greatest minister of foreign affairs of modern times. This amiable faith is quite excusable in any of us. There is such a sweet reasonableness in some of Lord Salisbury's speeches, and such an air of robust frankness in his manner, we take pleasure in being deceived, and almost prefer the lath to the iron it is painted to resemble. Whatever may be the state of the German Emperor's health we may give His Majesty credit for knowing Lord Salisbury. If Count Hatzfeld reports—"I cannot find Lord Salisbury"—"Lord Salisbury is not satisfied"—then the Emperor telegraphs—"Go again." "Keep at him," and thus it is that the German papers are writing at this moment: "The Russian and German tricolours float triumphantly at the masthead of Europe." That is not the English notion at all. We are told by Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour that a new note has been sent by the British Cabinet to the Powers. We are not allowed to know anything about it, and poor Lord Kimberly and Sir William Harcourt were snubbed piteously in Parliament for venturing to ask any question whatever about foreign affairs. To-night, Mr. Gould, the great caricaturist, in the Westminster, gives us the smirking mug of the premier, and the forlorn grin of Balfour to the very life. Balfour says "I told them to go to the papers." "I told them" says Salisbury "to go to—Hanoteaux." You may have seen in your Havas that at the much looked forward to sitting of the French Chambers, M. Hanotaux and M. Meline almost repeated parts of the speeches of Lord Salisbury in the House of Lords and at the banquet of the Associated Chambers of Commerce. Since the meeting of the French Chamber and its vote of confidence in the foreign policy of the Government, Lord Salisbury took occasion to praise the brilliant eloquence of the French ministers. These in their turn directed Baron de Courcel to thank the British premier for his kind notice of their eloquence. One feels sorry for the high spirited and chivalrous French that the dragging of the republic at the tail of Russia should have so demoralised them. I do not know what they call it but in our bad French we call all this "a put up job." All we hope is that as the prime ministers and foreign ministers of France and England are besiobbering one another, it means that at the eleventh hour when Greek and Turk are only waiting for the signal of attack, the three Liberal powers of Europe are after all going to show their teeth. If not, then indeed the flags of the three emperors occupy three of the mast heads of Europe, and with the crescent flaunting at the mizen. I know no place for the flags of Italy, France and England except in the stern or somewhere under the bowsprit. But withal, even the Westminster Review seems satisfied with relying upon the wisdom of Lord Salisbury. This is partly owing to the apparent similarity of the Creten crisis to the Armenian. In the latter instance most of us were on the side of Lord Salisbury, and it the peace of Europe were the only consideration, we ought to be on his side now. Sir Richard Webster—who is not a very good authority except upon comic songs and at that Lockwood beats him hollow—puts it in this way—

"The incursion of the Greeks into Crete, he said, was an act of aggression against Turkey. Though it might appeal to the British sense of heroism, it was a hostile act, and it was the duty of the Powers to step in for the prevention of a breach of the peace of Europe. It was a matter of congratulation that this nation had at the head of affairs at the Foreign Office a statesman in whom all parties had confidence, and whose opinions were respected throughout the civilised world. He characterised the Mussulman and Christian Cretans as being alike ferocious—Christians flying at Mussulmans' throats in one part, and Mussulmans flying at Christians' throats in another. The only possible solution of the difficulty was an autonomy for Crete, with guarantees of protection from the harsh dominion of the Turk."

The very tone of Sir Richard's voice, as Emerson said of Englishmen in general "has the ring of commonplace." His platitudes on the Cretan question and about autonomy are mere stock phrases and have been out of date for at least a fortnight. An autonomy, of some kind has been tried within the last few months. The Greeks complain that its result was the crowding of the Pireus with refugees from Crete, whom their not very rich government had to feed and clothe. The Greeks are not inclined to favour another autonomy even of European Concert pattern. The Cretan provisional Government at Akrotiri have just said the same, and denounce the falsehoods of those who have reported them ready to treat on the autonomic basis. Where they err diplomatically is in insisting upon the immediate union of Crete with Greece. This may not suit Europe (?) but where the Greeks and Cretans are quite right is in demanding an explanation of what Europe means by autonomy.

The proclamation of autonomy by the Admirals which you will see, is as a document and as a promise, useless. Surely there is room here for diplomacy if diplomacy is honest. Lord Salisbury's new note may treat of this question of autonomy, and of some means of saving the 'amour propre' of the Greeks in regard to the withdrawal of their troops. We hope it may, and that he may have the credit of preserving the peace of Europe a little longer. But at the moment I write we know nothing; and every breath of rumour from St. Petersburg, Berlin and Constantinople only increases our fears that the concert of Europe is not genuine, but only a means of active intrigue for the benefit or pleasure of certain governments. As for the resemblance between the present crisis and that occasioned by the recent Armenian massacres, it consists only in this, that the integrity of the Ottoman empire is the foundation of both, and the peace of Europe, supposed to be dependent upon that, may be of higher importance than the skins of Armenians or Cretans. After this all resemblance ceases, and above all as far as the question respects Great Britain. In Armenia we were powerless. In the Mediterranean we are all powerful. In Armenia we have no direct political interests to serve, but only the nobler cause of humanity which Lord Salisbury at that juncture might have thought he could assist better by diplomatic means than by involving this country in great military risks and chancing a European war. Subsequent events rather prove that Lord Salisbury overestimated his own powers of intercession as well as the honesty of the Powers. In Crete our interests are both political and humanitarian. Had we attacked Turkey in the cause of Armenia, we should have fought with a noble object and against a fiend. Did we now employ our Highlanders and Blue jackets in slaughtering the Greeks, we should attack a stronghold of freedom, a little oasis of civilisation, even only of a kind, on the Asiatic fringe of Europe. And this at the bidding of a man—perhaps a madman—who boasts that his empire is divided into nobles and serfs (the unfrei). If Lord Salisbury is to have his way we may be soon asked to join the concert of Europe in partitioning Switzerland and Holland, we ourselves being next on the list.

March 19th

A little sun. A few flowers. Dry pavements. Nature is chirrupy, and even the bakers' carts and the dollymops holystoning the doorsteps look happier than usual this spring morning in London. But on my honour, when we take up the papers, not for fifty years and not even then, has there been such a strong smell of powder in the air. People are sullen, discontented, dazed. We must not judge the strength of Liberalism by its present minority in the House of Commons, or even the modern feeling of Tories by the yells and gestures of youngsters packed by party discipline on the Tory benches like a claque in a theatre. At this moment Lord Salisbury's Government is in a minority in the country. Even Whitechapel, in spite of all the personal influence of the Rothschilds and two years nursing by the London Municipal Society, has returned Harry Lawson, a Progressive whilst perhaps it took the money of one Meinertzhagen. How could the fellow have the face to go before an English constituency with such a name. In Austria, anti-semites include religionists who hate Jews and social democrats who hate both. Religion has little or nothing to do with it. Bryanism is a kind of anti-semitism. A Jew politically is not necessarily a Jew. It is sufficient if he be a monopolist—an exploiter. In this sense an anti-semitic feeling is growing here. There is a crude notion abroad that English love of freedom and of helping others to be free is being sacrificed to bondholders, and that the financial element governs the foreign and home policy of this country as well as the Continent. The cantankerous labour-man, the flighty Socialist, the mugwump, the hesitating Unionist, are closing up into the Liberal ranks. Last night in the House of Commons the scene was imposing when the young bloods, incited by the mere feminine nagging of Mr. Balfour, shook their fists at the occupants of the Liberal benches, who pale, resolute, and dignified represented a cause. Upon them depends more than I can ventnre to speak of, now that I have long exceeded my allotted space, and feel oppressed by the heavily detailed political "biograph" before me. One laughs. The blockade of Greece or Crete was annouuced positively for last Monday. Tuesday came. Nothing. Wednesday. An Austrian cruiser sank a Greek bumboat. And now the blockade is again positively announced for Sunday next, the 21st inst, weather permitting. For has not the Gladstone pamphlet appeared this morning? It will not smooth the path of the European Cabal, or make its ways pleasanter.

Sr. Alejandro Montes. who has just died in abject poverty in the San Roque Hospital, was at one time Governor of Santiago del Estero. He had a claim of $40,000 against the National Government, but could not get paid, and died of want and a broken heart. The ups and downs of life.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

April 11th.

Little, if any, news of interest from this Chicago of ours, which is passing through its hour of tribulation, commercially speaking. Things in general are not looking particularly bright at present, and an atmosphere of "statu quo" is surrounding us, with a slight hope that better times will come. When? "Quien sabe".

At present politics seem to be the order of the day, fresh clubs of different colours being formed, and banquets given at the Grand Hotel in honour of the Toms, Dicks and Harrys from upper quarters, who have lately been visiting us. To-night one is given by our commerce to Senator Anadon, and, it is said, his "confrére", Dr. Galvez, will arrive in time to be present at it.

For all, there is such a great rumpus for the coming Governor's elections you may take it as granted that the latter gentleman will be the Man of the Wood's successor, and verily I do not see among the candidates who have entered the lists one better adapted to fill the post. When he was Governor, there is no doubt many irregularities, or rather deficiencies, were rampant, but that was the fault of the times, and probably the surroundings of the Governor, rather than a lack of his own good will and ability to be a good chief. Times have changed now, and the field is open for a new era of regeneration and good government for this province, which only requires that and the banishment of locusts (winged and of the biped genus) to take its place as the most flourishing of the Confederation.

I say then that if good work towards that end is to be done, Dr. Galvez is the man to accomplish it, just as I say that in the general government of the country there is but one man in whom we may implicitly rely; one man whose ambition will be to re-establish its credit at home and abroad, so long impaired through causes which it is needless to recall to memory. That man is General Roca, and he will certainly strive his best towards that end. Fortune, tame as a soldier and statesman and undisputed "prestige," he has all that at present; his only ambition then will be to pass on to history, or rather have his presidential term pass on to history, in golden letters as a period of prosperity, welfare and credit for the country.

In reference to Dr. Galvez, and notwithstanding fractional opinions, he is the coming man for this province; his policy will respond to General Roca's, and that is a sufficient guarantee. Men of the highest stamp in the province have already acknowledged the fact, and prominent amongst them our old friend Don Nicasio Oroño, who was the first of our governors in olden times, who against wind and tide, brought the province forward under a liberal and enlightened Government. I may here add that it was Governor Oroño who, against all the current of retrograde opinion, sent the first expedition of Californians into the depths of the Chaco under the orders of Mr. William Perkins, who founded the now flourishing colony "La California," on the picturesque site formerly known as "El Rey", and where yet may be seen the ruins of the ancient Jesuit Missionary establishment.

The Central Argentine Railway is on the point of starting the construction of its branch line from Pergamino to Melincué. The contractors are Messrs. Hopkins, Gardom and Tetley, constructing engineer Mr. Robinson of your city, and assistant ditto, Mr. J. C. Minton. The Central Argentine, if once upon a time it slept soundly, is wide-awake now, and slowly and surely is becoming and will eventually be one of the most important, if not the most important, of our trunk lines.

Our postal and telegraph returns for the first quarter of this year show a very slight decrease from those of the first quarter of 1896. I am only astonished that the difference is so slight, taking into consideration the loss of the harvest and general depression in commerce we have suffered and are still suffering from. The fact is very significant, and shows that Rosario, good times or bad, has got "vida propia", and is always going ahead.

Special wheat was quoted yesterday at $8.80, linseed $9 to 9.30. No buyers. Weather fine, but with a tendency to fulfill the forecast of the Pergamino astronomers.

RAILWAY AND OTHER ITEMS.

AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL IN ENGLAND.

American castings are being used in the new underground tunnels constructing in London. Mr. Wolfe Barry, C.E., President of the Institute of Civil Engineers, warns British manufacturers that they must wake up to the fact, although he does not think the U. S. will seriously compete with them. "Nevertheless, the thin edge of the wedge is a cutting one and must be respected", he says. A trade paper says it is not as much troubled about the use of the American castings as of the continued shipment of American steel blooms and billets to Sheffield and Birmingham, in increasing numbers.

In connection with this item, the following from a New York commercial exchange of March 5th, is of interest:—

"On the 2nd inst. the steamship Conemaugh was chartered by Peter Wright and Sons to carry nearly a full cargo of American steel bars to the Manchester district. The steel is from the Carnegie Works and is destined for Elmersport. The steel will be shipped in bars 30 feet long, 6 inches wide and one inch thick and they will be rolled and worked into structural shapes for a purpose which the shipper has thus far been unable to discover. The Conemaugh, which is owned by the International Navigation Company, will be the first vessel, it is said, to fly the stars and stripes that has ever entered the Manchester Canal. Similar consignments will follow to different points, not only in Great Britain, but on the Continent as well. The first consignment of spiegeleisen (a manufactured product used in making Bessemer steel) that has ever been shipped to Europe was forwarded last week to Liverpool on the American Line steamship Waesland. It amounted to nearly 2,000 tons, and was forwarded by the Bethelehem Iron Works."

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

At the Politeama on Saturday. Ermete will make his appearance in "La Zia di Carlo" a translation of Brandon Thomas's wonderfully successful comedy "Charley's Aunt" which in England, has made the fortune of the author and Penley the actor. Novelli produced this piece during his last visit and it was appreciated to such an extent that he had to repeat it many times. It is one of the most side-splitting comedies of the present day.

At the Opera House on Wednesday next, Alfredo Napoleon, the celebrated pianist, will make his first appearance before a Buenos Aires audience. In the programme there are selections from works of Liszt, Mendelsohn, Beethoven, Chopin, and Napoleon. There will be an orchestra of 50 professors, conducted by Furlotti.

On Saturday there will be a most important production at the Comedia Theatre. Sra Irene Alba will appear in Breton's most successful zarzuela "El Domingo de Ramos" a piece which has run for very many nights in Madrid, and in which Sra. Alba has created great enthusiasm.

On Tuesday next, that popular actor Felix Mesa will make his first appearance at this theatre.

Full preparations are being made at the San Martin for the production, on a grand scale, of the favorite "Water Pantomime". This year, the piece will be given on a grander scale than ever, and crowded as the theatre is at present, it will be almost necessary to build a bit more, to accomodate the spectators that will assemble.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 14th.

Mr. German Heiten has forwarded to the Minister of Public Works a petition for using a machine invented by him to kill locusts. The cost of the machine is from $800 to 1,000.

The 3rd Court of Appeal has been very busy of late sentencing murderers, forgers and thieves to imprisonment.

There is a great scarcity of news at present.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Kind, gentle and esteemed readers, you won't see the STANDARD again till Easter Sunday morning, as we intend to devote to-day and to-morrow to an editorial retreat, during which we shall probe and examine our conscience as to how we have done our duty to you since this day twelvemonths; and all we wish to say is, that, when you examine your own conscience on this point, we hope you will find it as clear as ours. And now "au revoir" till next Sunday morning, and peace, (We can't say plenty in Holy Week) be with you. Fast and pray.

The news about the Eastern Question is becoming as monotonous as that about the Cuban rebellion. There was nothing new yesterday in reference to it. The Powers are still pottering; Greece is pretending to hold out; Germany is blustering; England and Russia are silent; the Balkan States are getting their armies ready to side with Greece, and the Great Powers have it is said, at last made up what they are pleased to call their minds, to leave Greece to her fate in a war with Turkey, and wash their hands of the whole miserable business.

The weather felt rather rainish yesterday, although it looked splendid, and "quien sabe" if there won't be a deluge of rain before Easter Sunday. Crowds of holiday makers of all classes left last night for all points of the compass, to enjoy the four days' "rato de solaz". We intend to remain in bed for two days, a form of rest which the first physicians in England now recommend to overworked people as better than a week at the seaside.

The latest War Office news is that the Minister of War has asked the President of the Republic to grant him an interview "to define his present position." Fiddlesticks! It can only be defined by his resignation, which is a pity, as he has done more to lick the army and navy into shape than any of his predecessors; but the opposition to him in both services is too strong, and "go" he must. His Excellency is thinking of punishing Captains Barilari and Correa for resigning their commands, which he looks on as insubordination, and perhaps it is; but the step would only make matters worse.

Before the STANDARD is printed again the crack R. M. S. Nile will have sped on her way to old England with the big crowd of passengers whose names are given in another column. "Au revoir", ladies and gentlemen. We wish you all a pleasant voyage home, and a speedy return. If you should happen to see the Queen during her Jubilee, give her a big cheer for our account.

We have received an anonymous letter asking us why we are "so down on anyone enjoying themselves (Shade of Lindley Murray, what grammar!) on Good Friday. We object to Cricket or any other public form of amusement whatever on such a date, when all Christendom pauses, or should pause, in reverential awe in the contemplation of the Atonement on Calvary. As for playing cricket or other innocent enjoyments on Sunday, the Mother of all the Churches the Roman Catholic, to which we belong, not only allows it but encourages it, provided religious duties be first complied with. The late Cardinal Manning used to thoroughly enjoy himself by looking at the boys in St. Charles's College at Kensington (founded by him) playing cricket after church on Sundays: and many distinguished prelates in the Anglican Church hold the same sound views of innocent amusement on the Lord's Day.

There was a slight omission in our Sporting Notes yesterday which we are asked to supply. We forgot to say "at noon, sharp, punctual, or prompt" (take your choice of the three words) in reference to the closing of the Golf Competition entries on Saturday next. Entries must be sent to the Secretary 265 Maipu.

No need to wish a Happy Easter to the fortunate holders of the following lucky numbers in yesterday's Lottery:—5024, $100.000; 9604, $15,000; 19095, $5,000; 9497, 17,780 6942, 9600, 8152, 10271, 16450, 6021, 16703, $1,000; 14656, 18379, 14488, 7921, 13519, 8461, 20040, 15630, 16877, 20098, 19700, 2194, 15175, 18782, 10080, 19073, 8465, 7277, 12066, 20571, $500; 3446, 14,224, 17,291 6376, 12451, 12546, 20359, 12910, 20555, 5635, 9529, 11850, 2796, 15,634, 1428, 9844, 9727, 14619, 4520, 12759, 8515, 9565, 8308, 11927, 3310, 4414, 9721, 7984, 5665, 4449, 1833, 2142, 1932, 6862, 14994, 16395, 6137.

Following the good old custom, the President of the Republic will visit the churches to-day, accompanied by Dr. Bermejo, the Minister of Worship. H.E. will go first to the Cathedral at 2 p.m.

There was no fresh news whatever about the Banda Oriental revolution last night. Our Mount correspondent says in his telegram that there is nothing there but sensational rumours.

General Rudecindo Roca told the Minister of War, when he met him at Paraná, that the present system of mobilizing the National Guard every year for two months is the purest of humbugs, if the country is to have a real army. What is wanted is "conscription", the youngsters to be drafted into the Line for two or three years when they reach the age for service. Better still, General, would be a volunteer system, with good pay to those who select a soldier's life. But this is almost hopeless.

Several members of the British Community being of opinion that it would be expedient to commemorate in some prominent and useful manner the completion of the 60th year of reign of Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, it is proposed to hold a meeting at Prince George's Hall on Wednesday April 21st at 4.45 p. m. to discuss the fittest means of so doing and the best way of carrying out any scheme upon which the meeting may decide. H. M. Minister has undertaken to be present on the occasion, and is willing that the meeting be convened in his name, and it is hoped that as many members of the community as possible will kindly attend, in order that disenssion may be of a thoroughly repretative character.

A telegram has been received from Fray Bentos, R.O., reporting the arrival of the yacht Gladys. It seems that she has been very unfortunate in the way of wind, as she left Tigre at 6 p.m. on Saturday, arriving at Nueva Palmira at 12.50 p.m. on Sunday. Leaving the same night for Fray Bentos, she arrived there yesterday (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock in the morning. To-day they intend commencing their return journey. No mention is made of the Veloz or Gaviota, which we suppose must be now cruising with the Gladys, as they passed Nueva Palmira on the way up, whilst the latter's crew were on shore.

We much regret to hear that Manuel, the 3 year-old son of Mr. Walter Green, of Juncal 907, was on Monday knocked down and run over by the carriage of Colonel Boer, which was empty at the time. The poor little fellow had his leg broken and the coachman was yesterday arrested. We sincerely hope the injured limb will soon mend, though the doctor's report is, unhappily, by no means favourable.

A woman named Angela Isabel, was yesterday arrested for attempting to pass a forged note. It appears that she made such traffic her regular business. Unfortunately there is a very prevalent idea current, especially among the women-folk of all social grades, that to protect oneself from loss it is perfectly permissible to foist on to another a note which it is not desirable to keep. However, the ladies are by no means the only culprits in this respect and we have even seen a highly respected English firm calmly attempt a similar piece of—disingenuousness shall we call it?—on an unsuspecting customer. The more's the pity and shame.

On Tuesday the officers who form the court-martial to try Lieutenant Meroño, for the wreck of the Santa Fe, took the customary oath, and the written statement of the case was placed in the hand of the State prosecutor, Comandante Quiroga, who on Wednesday next will hand it to Lieutenant Lagos, the counsel for the defence.

No man is a hero to his "valet de chambre": not even to his own son. We are indebted to the great scissoring abilities of our highly esteemed colleague the Montevideo Times for the following "si-non-e-vero-e-ben-trovato" story:—Paderewski was once staying in Paris with his son, to whom he is very much attached. The boy happened to hear that his father was to perform at the Cirque, and eagerly asked permission to be present. His request was granted, and young Paderewski was taken to the concert, where his father delighted all the audience—with one exception—by his playing. "Well", asked the famous musician when they returned, "how did you enjoy it?" "Not at all" said the boy decidedly. "Not at all? Why, what was wrong?" "Oh," was the reply, "it was the dullest circus I have ever been to. I expected you to go through hoops, and all that; but you only played on the piano, just as usual."

The Diamond Jubilee Rood Screen business at Montevideo has shaken up our countrymen there like a Daily Telegraph question during the Silly Season at home. "Da—sh the Rood Screen" is the irreverent decision of the whole British community in the Mount. X. X. X. writes an admirable letter to the Montevideo Times on the subject, in which he says:—"Permit me to join through your columns in the chorus of protest that has been aroused by the proposal to devote subscriptions made for commemoration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee to the adornment of the English church. Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee is a unique, national and imperial event, not confined to a Church which, however respectworthy, does not even embrace a third part of Her Majesty's subjects."

The official census of Hawaii, just completed, shows that out of a total of 109,020 inhabitants 72,517 are males. Native born Hawaiians are the most numerous; there are 31,019 of them. Next come the Japanese, closely followed by the Chinese. The American contingent is insignificant in number, but owns over a third of the property, real and personal, in the islands.

Our American cousins ought to be thoroughly ashamed, and, no doubt, the great majority of them are, of that recent most brutal prize fight in Carson City between Corbett and Fitzsimmon. What a state of things must exist in Nevada State when women were present at the savage spectacle of two men battering each other to death for £700, and to make a Nevada holiday. The detestable affair appears to have excited the whole Union. The special New York correspondent of the London Telegraph declares that no event since the Presidential election has excited so much interest as the prize fight at Carson. From noon onwards vast crowds were gathered in front of newspaper offices and other places where bulletins were to be exhibited, and shortly after three o'clock, when the first telegrams arrived, there were probably 8,000 to 10,000 spectators in Herald-square who awaited the bulletins. Quite as many were collected in Madison and Union squares, while in City Hall Park, where nearly all the remaining newspaper offices are situated, there were possibly 50,000 people. The earliest news was received by the Western Union Telegraph Company at eleven minutes after three o'clock, there being three hours' difference of time between Carson and New York. The result was a great surprise to New York, whose sporting population generally anticipated the victory of Corbett. The Legislature of Nevada had passed a special Act legalising the fight, and all the "prominent" men in the State, and many women, were present.

We have to thank the Nueva Libreria Europea, at 314 Florida, for a copy, of "El Hombre de Traje Negro". (The Man in Black) a Spanish translation of Stanley J. Weyman's novel. The translation has been done by Dr. J. von Hardtmuth, and we must compliment him on its accuracy. We recommend this novel to our Spanish-speaking friends.

Are you aware, ladies, that the latest fad of your fashions in London, Paris and New York is the "Mirror Glove." You are said by men to be fond of looking at your lovely selves in every mirror you pass, to see if all your sails are properly set. The new fashion will save you this trouble. Hear, or rather read, what our little contemporary. Newest Fads, says on the subject:—"As we all know, the eleventh commandment—the one which is nowadays most rigorously observed—is, "Thou shalt not be found out." To facilitate obedience to this doctrine some mammoth mind has invented the mirror glove, and now woman may behold her reflection and prink and plume herself to her heart's content, and—which is the main object—escape detection in her little vanities. The mirror is skilfully inserted in the palm of the left hand glove, and therein may furtive glances be cast from time to time with absolute safety from discovery. Alas! if the mirror glove is widely adopted, and women cease to look for their faces in more public glasses, what will become of the humorist?"

Hear! Hear! As our reverend colleague the Ark of Faith expects some good for the public at large to accrue from the murder of the late Mr. Wanklyn, the explosion in Calle 25 de Mayo has already exemplified that out of evil good comes, a natural law, by the way, that keeps humanity, which is so wicked, from going straight to the last, but by no means the least, of the three Ds; as we all prefer even the deuce and the dogs to the third partner in the firm. The Municipality, since the explosion, has been rummaging in the stores of kerosene dealers, and every blessed one of them has been fined for having an excess of the article on his premises. The gunsmiths of the city have asked and obtained permission to jointly erect on an isolated spot near the Chacarita a store for their gunpowder. But what about those traders who have dynamite and other explosives stowed away in their cellars, exposing themselves and their neighbours to be sent heavenwards ere their time?

In compliance with a Law passed by Congress, just before the close of the Cleveland Administration, President McKinley has appointed the Commissioners who are to go to Europe to talk to the Powers about the "valorization of silver" by an international agreement!! Ye gods! Even if arrived at, such an agreement would have about as much effect as one to alter the rotation of the tides. The thing must fail, as it has always failed before. Even in New York the monetary and commercial classes foresee inevitable fiasco. England, Germany, and Russia, (the latter has only just got back to a gold standard after half a century of struggle) will laugh at the silly proposal.

The locusts have cost the Queen Province a prodigious lump of cash this year, some $300,000 spent in the futile attempt to "extinguish" them; and now $2000 more is to be pitched into the street for printing a windy, rigmarole report with details of the fiasco.

Special Notice.

At the American Church to-night at 8.15 p.m. the weekly service will be conducted by the Epworth League. Dr. McLaughlin and others will deliver addresses based on the words of St. Paul in the Epistle to the Romans. "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?" All are cordially welcome.

The "Monkland Mills" brand has quite taken the place of other oatmeals for porridge in many parts of Great Britain and the Colonies. It is prepared by a special process (the secret of its success) and has made marvellous strides in popular favour. The "Monkland Mills" brand is the only brand of rolled or flake oats quoted in the London Corn Trade Journal. It is sold scale weight from the barrel and never in packets.

FIRST RING..... 195.50
SECOND RING..... 196.50

The gold market seems hard set to do anything, either in the way of advance or retreat. If it moves a fewpoints one way, it is only to move back again almost in the same breath, and it can safely be set down, in view of the paralysis in trade and absolute dearth of any speculative spurt, that the market is in the hands of the "picholeadores," who buy to-day to sell to-morrow. Thus there is an ebb and flow movement going on, a species of tidal influence working and controlling the market within very narrow bounds, which will account for the stationary state of prices in the face of an enormous, pyramid-of-Cheops cash delivery. One would have supposed that the chalking up of over a milion dollars "al contado" would have convulsed the market, whirled prices about like straws in a Charybdis, and set the place ablaze with excitement, But it didn't. The speculation was tame and the reverse of furious, nor were the oscillations maddening, galvanic bounds. Everything was monotonously calm, as serious as a high-toned benevolent institution, as solemn as a funeral, without the solemnity of being either ominous or severe—rather matter of fact than otherwise. In other words the petty speculation was just raking in its differences with every spin of the ball. That is how the market stands. There is nothing to be apprehensive about, except the rather precarious footing of exchange, as the advices from Europe anent the classic, turbulent Greek and the sanguinary, turbaned Turk are rather better—both sides being so short of the sinews of war that peace must prevail perforce. Business on the whole is very quiet, too much so, and there are rumours of a strain in the Cabinet, but all this would seem to point to higher rates, whilst the market is moving the other way. How to account for it is difficult, but we may take it for granted that a good deal of gold bought over 300 is being liquidated, which helps the natural striving towards equilibrium. On time there is next to nothing doing, and stocks are lifeless.

Of the total of 1,620,000 dollars gold disposed of at the first hour, a trifle over a million was absorbed by the cash deals alone, which shews the indifference of the market to speculation; and it is significant in this regard that sellers for end of month are again extremely scarce. Being fortnightly liquidation day, it was not surprising that the business should have been heavy, and it was reported that one broker had gone to the wall, with differences calculated of $30,000, suggestive of speculation. He is not very long in the ring either, and only severed a partnership about end of February. However, report also has it that he was "left" by a client which if true will make all the difference when the Camara Sindical takes the matter in hand for investigation. The price of gold opened at 297½, rose to 398 and then collapsing to 296.80 left off at 295½, say two points down, but after the hour the rate rallied again to close at 296.30. In stocks there was nothing of note, even Catalinas being very dull.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$1,086,000 cash at 297.50-298-297.80-50-40 30-20-294 29[illegible].80-297--296.80--70-297-296.50-80-296.50-30-50 296-295.50-295.294.80-295-294 80-295-295.20-50.

Messrs Rocca, Terrarossa and Company bought from Mr. Lorda of Magdalena 600 steers at $35 and from Mr. Balcarce of Tapalque 400 at $39, all for saladero.

The Old Gas Company held its meeting yesterday, 151 shareholders, representing 21,364 shares, being present. The report and balance-sheet were presented and approved. They shew the very large net profit of $958,545 for the year, of which $294.800 were distributed as interim dividend, leaving $626,450 for a complementary dividend of $8.50 per share and $52,295 carried forward to new account. The shareholders have every reason to be satisfied with such a really handsome return, and we congratulate Mr. Murray on his very successful management of such a large and prosperous business. Messrs Alfredo Demarchi, Adolfo Bullrich and Samuel Hale Pearson were named directors; Mr Mariano Unzué suplente, and Mr. R.M. Ramsay, syndic.

The definite arrangements for resumption of service of the Province of Buenos Ayres's Foreign Debt only requires now to be signed and sealed by the Legislature and Congress to be complete and final. Many think that it is a mistake the National Government should be dragged into the business at all, but on the other hand the impression is widespread and firm that in the end, in one shape or another, the paternal power will have to fix off all these old "trampas," so that it is just as well the fixing was started right away, especially as in this case the countenance rather than the pecuniary assistance of the Nation is invoked. It is to be hoped that the other provinces will now go and do likewise, that is, if they have the wherewith and howmuch; and certainly the creditors do not seem to encroach on the frontiers of exigency when they have whittled off a trifle of 17 million gold dollars to get down to a mutual basis, and that for the Queen Province, which is shewing wonderful powers of recuperation. The sisters in misfortune would probably be able to trade even better on their discredit and do something towards putting the house in order. But the upshot will be always the same—the Nation to the rescue.

Telegrams from Santa Fé report that swarms of locusts have appeared on the railway line to Tucuman. A cloud of the insects passed through the colony of Ceres on Thursday last and continued its flight in the direction of Mar Chiquita.

Those who are ready to point to the act of President McKinley, in naming a Commission to visit Europe and secure the appointment of representatives, by all the great powers, to an International Monetary Congress to consider the question of bi-metalism, as showing his instability on the money question, will do well to bear in mind that one of the last official acts of President Cleveland, who is an unflinching advocate of sound money, was the signing of the bill passed by the recent Congress directing the President to name such a Commission, and it now falls to the lot of President McKinley to name the Commissioners. Messrs Walcott, Paine and Stevenson, the members named by the President are all able men, the latter being Vice President during President Cleveland's last term in office. There can be little or no question that the majority of the American people are as firm believers in bi-metalism as they are in a protective tariff. What they wish to secure is international recognition of some fixed value for a given weight of silver as compared with gold, but it is very doubtful if the necessary action can be had.

A smile, nothing stronger, flitted across the face of the market to-day over the news of our evening colleague El Diario that the stability of the Minister of War's position in the Cabinet is menaced by the inability of the Finance Minister to provide funds. Very ingenuous, if not ingenious. But the itch is not there. There is grave suspicion, nothing more, that the Minister's trouble is local and internal, which an application of shinplasters will not alleviate, much less cure. More's the pity.

Everybody was talking to-day of Mr. Loewe's letter to General Mitre accompanying a beautiful presentation Mauser. Nothing could have been in better taste, as the terms of the letter are intensely flattering to Argentine self respect and intelligence, whilst the fact of the writer being so largely interested in Argentine stocks shews that European business men are fast attaining an accurate idea of the great future of the country. Mr. Loewe says he went into Argentine stocks, and heavily too, investing a great part of his fortune, during the very thick of the crisis. The wonder is that he did not buy a block of say 50 leagues in the Pampa; but of course stocks are more easily handled than blocks, and coupons less troublesome than the breeding of sheep and improvement of the herds. The letter is a very honourable testimonial to Argentine capabilities.

It seems at last as if the long trouble over the Rosario City Improvements had come to an end. There was much bitterness in it, as the concessionaries contended that the Municipality by using the Works without officially accepting them was playing false and dishonourably, but apparently a mutual basis of arrangement has been found, as the engineers named to take over the Works are just getting to work. It is a good ending to a bad business.

The explanatory letter of Dr. Escalante to the President of the National Bank, published in our last, was much commented on to-day, as some think it shews the Government is very hard pressed, which may or may not be true, probably is, considering that it is the normal condition of South American Executives in general. However, the letter means nothing beyond the legitimate desire of the Finance Minister to have all supplies under his direct surveillance, whilst he plainly states that the Government does not mean to appropriate these funds, as the National Bank creditors were apprehensive. The only change, therefore, is that the monies accruing from the liquidation of the National Bank, instead of being held by the bank, go to deposit in the Banco de la Nacion to account of the Government. There is nothing in this to cause any ebullition of bile.

The amount of gold withdrawn from liquidation to-day was 659,000 dollars, which confirms what is said of the business of the market being a very petty speculation. The delivery is not much over the moiety of the cash total at the first hour. At auction 5,000 dollars were sold at 296.60.

Business for the week is now closed, as the banks, Bolsa, Courts, Government House and merchants' offices all close till Monday next, and town will be deserted, except for the families remaining in for the time-honoured custom of visiting the churches. It will be a very sombre end of week.

As some remittances have to be made by the packet, there was fair movement in exchange to-day, which, however, did not affect rates, these being rather flattish. We quote:—

London—47 13/16-¾ d.
Paris—5.01¼-02 fcs.
Antwerp—5.03 fcs.
Hamburg—4.08½ marks.

Discounts are reported quiet at 7½ to 8% paper and 6% gold.

Business was excessively dull at the second hour, and the Bolsa pretty empty, merchants and brokers having all closed their business and sped away to start the holidays. The total of gold sold was only a trifle over a quarter of a million dollars, and prices reflected no change of importance, the rate opening and closing at 296¼. Some old Gas shares were done at 213, and a lot of Spanish Banks at 130. Catalinas were quiet, but a trifle firmer at 7.80.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the second ring:—

The produce markets could not possibly be duller, though this may be in great part ascribed to the enforced spell of idleness coming on. Business is utterly paralysed. The cables, however, were a trifle better in tone, the B type being firm at 3.67½, wheat firm, maize at 13/- and linseed at 28/3. The wool sales to-day were a scant 300,000 kilos.

The National Treasury paid out to-day $427,000 in gold and $571,000 in currency. The War Office was given $160,000 for expenses.

The Engineers' Department has asked for $40,250 for repairs of the South Darsena.

The Treasury has paid $100,000 on account for the reconstruction of the Riachuelo wharves.

Letters from Concordia say the estancieros are all growling over the dearth of demand for steers. There are heaps of them, but no buyers. The saladeros are buying next to nothing. On the Unzué estancia there are 3000 head ripe for slaughter, and on other estancias much the same thing holds, and yet we see the saladero slaughter much ahead of last year and the live-stock returns of the Mesopotamia shewing a pronounced shrinkage. It is hard to understand such conflicting conditions, but there is this to be said, that Concordia in itself shews no shrinkage in any line.

It is strange how sugar sets some people's teeth, or rather feelings, on edge. The petition of the Sugar Trust, for it is their petition really, to be allowed to export right away in order to forestall the Dingley tariff is very generally "sat upon" by opinion as another endeavour of the sugar clique to take the wall, and people are so sick of the sugar men and their ways that they hope that the Government will stand by the terms of the law of Congress and consign the petition to the basket. It may be only the Trust's way; but somehow it rubs the market against the fur, and the consequence is that it is looked upon as a common enemy.

The mammouth Hamburg-American liner Philadelphia took on her first trip from New York to Hamburg by far the largest cargo ever transported in one vessel, it measured no less than 18,500 tons. To transport this cargo by rail in the United States 616 large 8 wheeled cars, carrying 30 tons each would be required, sufficient to make up 18 heavy trains.
A maximum price of $300 a ton was fixed by the United States Congress for the double forged Harveyed nickel steel armour used by the Navy Department. The last armour of this class contracted for by the Government cost over $500 a ton. One of the first important acts of the new Secretary of the Navy was to advertise for proposals for 8,000 tons of nickel steel armour, most of it to be reforged and Harveyed, at an average price of not more than $300 a ton. The bids were to be opened last week, and much interest was being manifested by European Governments and armour plate makers, as to the probable result, as the price fixed by the Government is believed to be abnormally low. The three battleships last authorized by Congress require 2,660 tons of armour each, exclusive of that worked into the armoured decks, which is furnished by the builders of the ships. The saving to the Government if the armour plate manufacturers accept the new price will be over $500,000 on each ship.
